

FAMILY HISTORY - TEMPLE

- 1) Invite sisters to share their Cultural Dress, Dance, Food, etc.
- 2) Arrange for groups to take trips to the Family History Library or Temple together.
- 3) Direct the Family History Specialist to those interested in personal help.
- 4) Encourage volunteering for on-line indexing.
- 5) Begin offering TEMPLE SHOWERS for those young girls preparing for temple marriages or serving a mission (check my post on this subject for details).
- 6) Learn A Language Together
- 7) Help one another write a life history. Take all the moments and memories in your life and write about them in various writing forms: short story, poem, SONNET, etc. If an English teacher or editor is available, have him/her help you with grammatical corrections to make each one a beautiful statement of your life.
- 8) Pick one or two projects from my list of 101 Family History ideas, and work together to complete it. (Check all four posts I have on this blog).
- 9) Invite sisters to study up on various topics such as History of Relief Society, Suffrage, Relief Society Projects, Relief Society Presidents, etc. and create a time for them to share their findings.
- 10) VOXUNTEER your time (2-3 of you) at your local Family History Center.
- 11) Attend classes together offered by the Family History Library, or your local Family History Center.
- 12) Help the YW VISIT PEOPLE IN A RETIREMENT HOME, INTERVIEW THEM, AND WRITE DOWN THEIR HISTORY. I've always thought this would be a great way to keep young people connected with older people.
- 13) Buy a 20 Generation Pedigree Chart and fill it out with all the information your family has collected. You will have an instant visual of how much work has, or hasn't, been done.
